The work of taking the machinery out of the Valley Mills was begun Tuesday.

Work has been commenced upon the sidewalk from this city to Taylorton, and is being pushed rapidly.

The ladies can have their stamping and pinning neatly executed by Mrs. W. G. Goodwin, Third street, South Side.

Charles Warner, Louisville, says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and biliousness; there is nothing to compare with it."

Ed. Harris, a colored carpenter employed at the new "O. F. C." Distillery, had his foot very badly cut, Wednesday morning, by the falling of a heavy timber upon it.

Mr. D. M. Woodson has commenced laying the foundation of a neat cottage residence on the land he purchased recently from Judge L. Hord, two miles from this city, on the Orenton pike.

Mr. James Hughes, who resides on the farm known as the Black place, near the Forks of Elkhorn, in this county, has an apple tree in his orchard which is full of apples of the second crop, that are as large as a hen's egg. The cool spell of the first of the week, of course, will prevent their maturing, but they would soon have been ripe.

The L. & N. Railroad Company has commenced the erection of a depot building at the new station, near Mr. James Hearn's gate, four miles and a quarter from this city. The name of the Station will be Jet's, and Mr. James R. Shaw will be the agent. Already eighteen car loads of coal have been sold there this fall, and a steam corn sheller is in operation shelling a car load a day, which is shipped off. As soon as the turnpike from the Versailles pike to Millville, is completed, which will be in about two months, the greater if not all the shipping done from the Glen's Creek distilleries will be from this depot. As soon as the building is completed Jones' Station, which is only a short distance this side, will probably be abolished, and much of the business now done at Duck's will be transacted there.

He Got a Layover.

A man by the name of W. Haselking bought a ticket for Louisville at the Lexington depot, Wednesday morning, and boarded the train that arrives in this city at 8:10 a. m. When the conductor came around he asked for a layover check for Midway, but was informed that the company gave no layovers and his request could not be complied with. He then refused to give up his ticket and would not pay his fare. When the train arrived at Midway the conductor procured the services of the town Marshal, went into the car and again demanded the ticket, which Haselking still refused to give up. The conductor then told him to leave the train, but he said he would not do that either and the conductor took him by the arm, saying he would assist him off, when he reached behind him and drew his pistol, which was not unlooked for. At this move the Marshal of Midway stepped up, took him in tow on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and marched him off the train. He will now have the pleasure of paying about fifty dollars for his fun, but he got a layover. It would have been cheaper to have paid his fare.

To The Dry Goods Merchants of Frankfort:

GENTLEMEN: It is the urgent request of the many clerks who have employed that you give them the necessary freedom becoming every working man in the United States, to wit: By closing all places of business where dry goods are kept and sold, except Saturday night, promptly at six o'clock, P. M. We do not see the true benefit derived by the employers in keeping open said houses after that time, as the amount saved, which is now paid for bad light alone, will sufficiently and abundantly repay you to comply with the request of your many clerks.
Signed,
MANY CLERKS.

$100 Reward

Is offered for any case of Catarrh that can't be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally. Price 75 cents.

There is a great complaint among the residents of some portions of the city, especially on High street, at the lateness of the hour at which the gas on the streets is lighted. It is often after seven o'clock before they have light and the walking is rendered dangerous thereby.

Manager George O. Morris, of "The World," carries with him two entire sets of scenery, one for the largest Opera Houses in the country, and one for small halls. The small set, used here, is just as complete, and insures the production of every scene, without cutting or mutilation, at Capital Hall.

Mr. J. E. Rodgers, of the firm of J. F. Ponder & Co., Louisville, has opened out a splendid stock of watches, jewelry, and silver-plated ware in the Singer Sewing Machine Office, on the corner of Main and Lion streets, where he can be found at all times, ready to sell the finest goods at the lowest cash price, or exchange them for old gold and silver. Call and see him.

In the case of the Plaintiff's National Bank of Louisville against J. W. Bachelor and his sureties, Messrs. Stephen Black, R. P. Pepper, G. W. Gwin and A. C. Keen, of this city, and Zeb. Ward, of Arkansas, in the Louisville Court of Common Pleas Wednesday, judgment was obtained by the Bank for $50,000. This suit was brought by the Bank to compel Mr. Bachelor, who was Cashier, to make good a portion of the amount stolen by Louis Rehm, the Teller, several years ago. There have been six trials of the case already, once in the Court of Appeals, and it will likely go there again.

It is said that there are stored in two business houses alone in this city from fifteen to twenty kegs of gunpowder, and in others more or less. This is explosive material enough to blow the whole town into eternity, and should be removed at once to some secure place. The State has a magazine on the Arsenal Hill which is now used, and the merchants would doubtless be allowed to place it there free of charge. If there is not a city ordinance against dealers keeping so large a stock in the city, one should be enacted at once, for not only the property of every citizen is in danger but lives of the people are constantly jeopardized while it remains, for at any moment a spark or a cigar thrown carelessly down may spring this mine.

Albert Reed, of color, was exercising his cursing propensity, on the corner of Main and St. Clair streets, Monday morning, when Mr. Geo. B. Macklin came along and told him to stop swearing, but instead of obeying he turned his attention to Mr. Macklin and applied all the abusive epithets to him which he could command, and as that gentleman drove off in his buggy followed him up the street, picked up a stone, and threatened to strike him with it. Officer Rupe appeared on the scene at this point and arrested Reed, who refused to go with him, and the officer was compelled to use his stick upon him when he broke away and ran, but was induced to return by the persuasive argument of a pistol aimed at him, and was finally lodged in the work-house. Tuesday morning Syre Bohannon awarded him fifty days in the work-house, and when taken back there became so surly as to require irons to be put on him.

"The World" is a Capital Hall show.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 18, 1882.

THE FIRE.

Loss About $40,000

The most destructive fire that has visited this city for several years took place Saturday afternoon. About half past three o'clock the lively stable of Messrs. Lee & Co. was discovered to be on fire and the alarm was sent in by telephone to the engine house. There were about forty horses in the stable at the time but Mr. James Darnell, who was in charge, succeeded in cutting them loose and getting them all out, the last one just as the flames had reached the stall in which it was.

The fire department was on hand promptly with both their engines, but got a bad start on account of the fact that just after starting his machine to work Engineer E. A. Phillips, of the E. H. Taylor, Jr., got the end of his left thumb cut off by one of the wheels of the circulating pump and was compelled to leave his post to have his hand dressed, and Mr. Richard Ferguson had to leave his place at the New Era to supply that of Mr. Phillips, which of course caused some delay but both machines were soon at work again, the New Era being served by young Lee Sheets and Richard Weaver, colored, of the Capital Machine Works, who worked faithfully and well until far into the night, while Mr. Ferguson handled the Taylor in his usual good style.

A stiff breeze was blowing from the south at the time and the flames ran rapidly up the rear wall of Major's Opera House, set fire to the cornice and soon communicated to Buhr's Hotel, both of which buildings were soon wrapped in flames. The residence of Mr. John T. Buckley, on Ann street, the stable of Mr. V. Kaltenbrun, and the small brick house on the alley in the rear of Mrs. John Baltzel's residence, formerly occupied by Frank Nall, were also destroyed. By hard work the firemen succeeded in saving the front part of Major Hall and the Buhr Hotel, though both were very badly damaged. The wind blowing in the direction it did made the saving of the buildings of Messrs. Kaltenbrun and Con. McAuliffe to the east of Major Hall comparatively easy, but to prevent the spread of the flames to the residences of Mrs. Baltzel and Mrs. Gwin and the frame structures in the rear of the Yeoman office was a hard matter, but was finally accomplished by the firemen with the assistance of citizens with buckets of water.

By six o'clock the flames were under control and the streets, which had been filled with anxious spectators all the afternoon began to be cleared, the militia were called out to guard the goods of the sufferers by the fire, and the old town began to settle down to its usual quiet.

The fire originated in the wash-house of the Buhr Hotel, which was located in the rear of the Opera House, adjoining the stable.

The following is a list of the unfortunate ones:

Messrs. Lee & Co., lost $200 in feed, insured for $1,600 on horses and carriages.
Mrs. Mary Heffner, stable occupied by Messrs. Lee & Co. Loss $500, insured for $500.

City of Frankfort, Major Opera House. Loss $15,000, insured for $12,500.
George Buhr, hotel. Loss $15,000, insured for $10,000.

John T. Buckley, residence. Loss $2,000, insured for $1,500 on house and $500 on furniture.

V. Kaltenbrun, stable and damage to furniture. Loss $600, insured for $3,500.

R. Rogers, stock of furniture badly damaged in removing. Loss $2,000. Insured for $5,000.

John B. Dryden, stock of goods damaged in removing. Insured for $400.

Mrs. Baltzel, damage to residence $100. Insured for $2,500. No insurance on out-building burned.

Dr. J. G. Hatchitt, post-office fixtures badly damaged with no insurance.

Messrs. B. B. Gateley, Labrot & Graham, C. H. Hatchitt, Ed. Hensley and Dr. V. A. Kaltenbrun all had their office furniture damaged by removal, and Messrs. Davidson & Williams suffered from the rough handling of their goods. None of whom except Mr. Hatchitt had any insurance, and his was only one hundred dollars.

SPARKS.

It is probable that the Opera House will be rebuilt at once.

The militia should be utilized next time to keep off the usual crowd of self-constituted bosses.

Neither engine was disabled as announced by the Yeoman, but both worked beautifully as soon as a supply of water could be had.

Three times in the last twenty-five years have the buildings adjoining Mrs. Baltzel's residence on the east been destroyed by fire, but it still stands.

The City Clerk's office and Council Chamber are now in the room in the Price on property Main street formerly occupied by the Farmer's Bank.

The crowd of fools who stand back with their hands in their pockets and tell just how it ought to be managed, and curse the Chief because he does not follow their instructions, was there in force.

Mr. Thos. Tanner, of the Yeoman office, while in the back yard of Mrs. Baltzel, assisting at the fire, was struck by one of the streams from the hose, knocked down, and his left shoulder dislocated. His injury was very painful, but we are glad to know that he is doing well.

The post-office is now in the room formerly occupied as a barbershop in the basement of the Capital Hotel. Mr. R. Rogers has removed his stock of furniture to the room in the large warehouse, Main street, lately occupied by Messrs. J. G. Dudley & Bro., Mr. J. B. Dryden has his stock of goods in the basement of the Capital Hotel, Mr. Geo. Buhr and family are occupying the Weitzel Hotel, and Mr. Jno. T. Buckley has removed his family into the house on Main street lately vacated by Mrs. Vandiver.

A great many citizens, property holders, who go to a fire, stand with their hands in their pockets, and when asked to assist with the hose, will say "you have a paid department let them do it." Now there are four men employed to stay at the engine house on monthly salaries and eleven runners who receive five dollars per month. The four who stay at the engine house have to be at the engine or attending to the horses all the time during a fire, two of the runners, in case both engines are used, have to act as engineer and fireman of the second engine, and this leaves nine. It requires three men to each nozzle, and at a large fire, where three streams are needed all the force left have to handle the nozzles and there is no one to "tighten up" the hose, so the "paid department" cannot do everything at a large fire like that of Saturday and are compelled to call for help. It is true there are some always ready to assist, but there is a growing disposition to stand back and let the boys do it all, which should not be.

Col A. H. Bowman, Commissioner of Agriculture, will give his annual corn show on the 28th of this month. He offers the following premiums: For white, yellow, and broad corn each, first premium ten dollars. For puffed or mixed corn and hominy corn respectively, a premium of fifteen dollars. For cattle corn, to be shown on the stalk, fifteen dollars. Each exhibitor must send in not less than twenty-five ears.

"The World" comes to an end in a hotel, in this city, on next Tuesday evening when the curtain falls at the end of the sixth act, and the eighth tableau.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 18, 1882.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN CITY AND COUNTY

The city election takes place two weeks from today.

The work of cleaning away the debris of the fire has been commenced.

Six telephones were in the burnt district and had to be taken out Saturday.

The artillery company was to have been organized last night. Twenty-two names had been enrolled.

Mr. George Buhr will rebuild his hotel, and will make it an improvement over the old one in appearance.

Mr. Mike Buckley is erecting a neat two-story brick residence on the site of the old Long house on Ann street.

FORGOT—A clasp door key of peculiar shape, which the owner can have by calling at this office, and paying for this notice.

The Morris Staines Company, of this city, shipped last week to London, Ontario, Canada, 60,000 feet of Nos. 1 and 2 poplar lumber.

The open meeting of the Good Templars Thursday night was addressed by Elder George Davis, Rev. Morris Evans, and H. J. Hyde, Esq.

The crossing at the intersection of Shelby and Cross street, South Frankfort, is below the street and should be raised before bad weather sets in.

A stage has been fitted up in the ball room of the Capital Hotel, and that room will be used for public entertainments until the Opera House is rebuilt.

Hon. W. W. Cullerton, the newly elected Congressman from the Ninth District, married Miss Lucy Hardie in Belle Point, some two years ago.

Private X, in the Louisville Argus of Sunday says: "The McCrory Guards can do anything from extemporizing a game of keno to supporting a battery."

Mrs. Edith Harlan Child, eldest daughter of Justice John M. Harlan, died in Chicago Sunday morning, at 9 o'clock, with typhoid fever. The remains were interred at Washington cemetery.

This winter will be a splendid time for tableaux, church fairs and private theatricals as very few shows, unless it be a minstrel troupe, or some other horse concert will visit our city while we are without a public hall.

As there has been considerable talk about the county buying a lot near the river and building a new jail upon it, the lot upon which the stable stood that was burned Saturday is just the place to suit. If the county has any idea of doing such a thing now is their chance.

We understand that the first of next month the East Tennessee Telephone Company will begin the erection of a telephone line between this city and Louisville. At this rate it will not be long before all the towns and cities in this section of the State will be connected by telephone and the telegram will be entirely superseded.

Miss Medora Wilson died suddenly at the residence of her mother, in this city, Wednesday night. She had been complaining for several days, but it was not thought necessary to call in a physician until noon Wednesday. She was a consistent member of the Christian Church, and had many friends in this city and county, who were greatly shocked to learn that she was so suddenly snatched from earth. The funeral took place from the Christian Church, Thursday afternoon. It is thought her death was caused by heart clot.

Mr. Chap. Featherston wishes us to say that he was not correctly reported in the Council proceedings published in our last issue. He says he did not suggest the turning of the coal oil lamps on Holmes street over to the Gas Company but only wanted to know why they were not lighted half the time. He further states that he is willing to keep the four lamps on Holmes street and the four on the Arsenal Hill lighted and supplied with oil for six dollars and a half per week, which is just half the amount he understands it now costs the city.

It is this World—not the next—that Manager Dryden is preparing for.

We are glad to learn that little Willie, infant son of Judge W. L. Pence, who has been very ill, is some better.

Hog thieves have commenced their work in this county. Several farmers have lost the finest and latest of their hogs.

The Union Thanksgiving service will be held this year in the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Dr. Lewis, of the Baptist Church, will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally. It acts directly upon the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. For sale by Jos. LeCompte, South Side.

Mrs. Maria Church, for a number of years a resident of South Frankfort, at last accounts was lying very ill at Kirkwood, Missouri, from the effects of a paralytic stroke.

Robert Fields, a well known colored boot-black, who had been employed at the barber shop of Henry Semmler for some time, died Tuesday afternoon, of what is known as "gallbladder consumption." He was a good, honest boy, who was universally popular with both white and colored. He had not been confined to bed, but was able to go about the city until within a few hours of his death.

Hon. Isaac N. Caldwell, of Irvine, Ex-llie Capt. H. I. Todd, were married Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, in this city, in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. They left on the afternoon train for Cincinnati, and leave that city for Irvine this morning, where they will reside until spring, then remove to Madison county.

Our handsome Jailer, Mr. Dan Sheehan, and Miss Mary Dancherly, of Lexington, were married in this city Thursday morning, by Rev. Father Brossart. The groom returned to this city in the afternoon of Thursday, but unfortunately his bride, who has been quite ill for several days, was unable to accompany him. We tender our congratulations to our brother typo, and trust that he may be soon joined by the partner of his joys and sorrows and their wedded life be one of continued happiness.

Mr. Thomas Carter, of South Frankfort, has a Jersey cow a little more than two years old, which is a number one butter maker. On Wednesday night Mrs. Carter took less than a quart of churnings saved from her milk, put it in a picher, set down by the fire, and churned it with a tablespoon until the butter came. The result was a pint of buttermilk and twelve ounces of hard, solid butter. If any body has a cow that gives richer milk than this one let him trot her out.

Mr. Sidney French's two little daughters, Flossie and Leenie, were playing together Monday evening, against Flossie, who had a heated poker in her hand, accidentally pinched it in her sister's left eye, injuring the ball in a very serious and painful manner. The little one suffered intense pain from the wound all Monday night, and it was feared that she would lose the sight of the eye, but we are glad to know that Dr. Brown, the attending physician, thinks she will not be so unfortunate but will eventually recover the use of it.

How it Was Done.

Suit has been filed in the Franklin Quarterly Court in the following account which explains itself: "FRANKFORT, KY., February, 1882. Theodore Davis, vs. To E. A. W. Roberts, Dr. For assisting in getting jury in case of Commonwealth against Davis for killing Montague..... $80 00 Or by cash..... 10 00 To balance due..... $50 00
